

At Timberworks Housewrights, when we say “For When The Details Matter”, this is much more than our marketing slogan. We believe that , truly, if your home is to the special place you deserve, the details are what will make it so.

We are a small company, by choice, and therefore dedicate our energies to one Client at a time. We look for ways to integrate all the materials and systems in your new home into a seamless finished product. Every Timber Frame is tailor made, to fit you and your design. When you do not want it any other way, then this is “When The Details Matter”.

Contact Timberworks Housewrights today to begin a conversation about your new home. Utilize our experience, combined talents and passion to make your project unique.

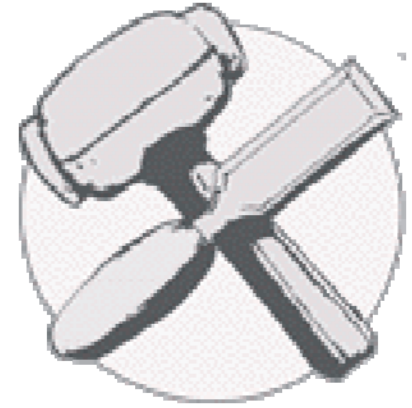

Look up our web site at www.archtimb.com for more information. There is a wealth of helpful information at our site, much more than we could ever fit in a brochure!

Our web site now also features many of the hard-to-find products you will require for your low-impact energy efficient home. You may order many of these items on-line and either have them shipped to you or set up to pick up your order at Timberworks.

Handcrafted Timber Framing
Design/Build Services
Building Products For Low-Impact Homes

What We Do:

We specialize in designing, joining and standing custom Timber Frame structures. All of our work features traditional mortise and tenon joinery. Each frame is handcrafted at our farm location in Pennsylvania in much the same way as joiners have done for centuries.

Beginning with our design services, to our use of the ancient craft of timber joinery, through to the Structural Insulated Panels (SIP's) we utilize, we provide our Clients more than simple shelter. We provide a home which matches your personality and lifestyle.

Available Products & Services:

- Complete design & engineering services from concept to finished Construction Documents.
- Fabrication & standing of Timber Frame structures.
- Structural Insulated Panel (SIP) design & installation.
- Supply and installation of low-impact building products.
- Complete on-site construction services.

What's Next?

That depends on where you are with your planning. It is always best to meet, or at least speak, with you before we work up any pricing estimates.

If this is not a possibility, and you have a design in mind, we may be able to provide an estimate on your project. We would still ask you to review our "Working With Us" section of our web site and submit our "Project Questionnaire" so that we have as much information about your ideas, hopes and lifestyle as possible. You would then need to get your design to us for an initial review.

If you do not have a design, then we certainly need to schedule a meeting to discuss your requirements. We usually meet with you here and begin the dialog necessary to move your ideas ahead.

When you work with Timberworks Housewrights you have control over many of the choices which will make your project a home. Overall design, wood species, joinery style, finishes, trim & siding, roofing...the choices are limitless. For this reason cost estimates are also customized. We do not have "packages" and pre-set designs to shoe-horn you into.

When you contact Timberworks Housewrights you will be working directly with the company Owner, Mitch V. Rowland. Weekday meetings can often be arranged on fairly short notice, while weekend meetings take a little more planning. Contact Timberworks Housewrights today to get started!
